POLLING LOCATION FINDER JUST A CLICK AWAY

Registrar's Web Site Also Includes Ballot Choices for November 2 Election

For San Diego County voters unsure of where to cast their ballot for the November 2 Presidential General Election – or even who or what is on the ballot – help is just a few keystrokes away.

Registrar of Voters Sally McPherson said voters can now look up both the location of their polling place and the specific contest and measures that will appear on their personal ballot through the Registrar's web site:

www.sdvote.com

Voters can simply click on the interactive "Polling Place Locator" and enter their residence address. The "locator" will provide the name and address of their polling place – even a map and written driving directions if they need it – and, with another "point and click", the system will "call up" the voter's specific ballot choices as well, said McPherson.
